Montana Health Center Providers - Billings

Emily Colson, MD

Dr. Emily Colson is a Family Physician from Virginia, who has been a Montana resident since 2003. She is a graduate of Eastern Virginia Medical School and the Montana Family Medicine Residency Program, in Billings, Montana. In the past 20 years, she has provided inpatient and outpatient care for Montanans from Troy (west of Libby) to Miles City, working in settings ranging from the large Billings hospitals to the smallest of clinics. She provides a broad range of services at the Montana Health Center, including wellness care for children and adults of all kinds, women's health, family planning, minor procedures, and chronic disease management.

Dr. Colson loves the people, places and outdoors activities that abound in Billings, which is why she and her husband have made it their home. She spends her time out of the office guiding her four kids through this wonderful world, and occasionally making some time to garden, draw or sip coffee.

Rachel Mehling, FNP-BC

Rachel was born and raised in the great state of Montana, receiving her Bachelor of Science degree in Nursing from Montana State University. After serving her community for eight years as a Registered Nurse in Emergency Medicine, she went on to obtain her master's in nursing and Family Nurse Practitioner degree through Herzing University. Specializing in family medicine, Rachel enjoys working with patients of all ages to treat common acute and chronic conditions to help her patients achieve optimal health and wellbeing.

Rachel enjoys spending her free time with her husband, son, and two dogs, taking in every adventure the beautiful state of Montana has to offer, including fishing, camping, and hiking.
